COOLER WEATHER

CAUSES A BETTER FEELING IN THE SOUTHERN STATES,

ALTHOUGH THE USUAL NUMBER OF NEW CASES IS REPORTED.

Memphis All Excitement for a Time Over a Suspicious Case Which Was Only the Effect of a Drunk—Frost in Alabama. Edison Believes He Can Kill the Microbes—The Claim of a Texan—Evansville's Doors Opened—Notes.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 27.—The official bulletin for twenty-four hour ending Tuesday night at 6 o'clock shows: New cases, 143; deaths, 4. Total cases to date, 2,341; total deaths to date, 221. Deaths: Joshua Lloyd Bench, Mrs. Hall, colored, Otto Tripp, Miss Florence Stowe. Of the new cases reported fifty-eight were white and eighty-five colored.

The weather has improved wonderfully and is much cooler, so a better and more hopeful feeling prevails all round.

It has now been officially announced that the fever has appeared at Fernandina, and two nurses and Dr. Maxwell went to its relief.

King Call, correspondent of the New York World, sent here to write up the situation, was stricken down with the fever yesterday and was carried to the Sand Hills.

Ocala, Fla., is surrounded by a mounted guard, and there is little chance of the fever getting in.

LATER.—Up to noon Wednesday two deaths and forty new cases of yellow fever have been reported.

Suspicious Case at Memphis.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 27.—Dr. G. B. Thornton, president of the board of health, reported to the board Tuesday that one Berry H. Binford, a resident of Memphis, who traveled south for a Cincinnati coffee and spice house, had been taken with a chill which was closely followed by a fever in the afternoon. The physicians who were called to wait on him thought the case suspicious and sent for him. A thorough examination failed to satisfy him as to the nature of the disease, but he thought it was suspicious, especially in view of the fact that Binford had been traveling lately in the infected districts and was at Decatur, Courtland, Huntsville and Atlanta, and only reached home on the 19th. The sick man was ordered removed to the yellow fever ward at the city hospital, where his case will be diagnosed. Until the result is made known Memphis will remain in a perfect frenzy of apprehension and fear.

LATER.—Dr. R. W. Mitchell, who has just returned from a visit to Binford, says he found him free from fever, and unhesitatingly pronounces his sickness only the after-effects of a spree. There is no excitement here since the true facts of Binford's illness has been made public. An official denial from Dr. G. B. Thornton, president of the board of health, and other physicians is being prepared.

Around New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 27.—For the past four days the entire country between New Orleans and Nashville and Shreveport and Montgomery has been in a state of panic scarcely describable. The announcement that yellow fever existed in Jackson, Miss., was immediately followed by quarantine against that place by every town and hamlet in the sections above bounded. In some places the entire male population turned out with shotguns to drive away refugees. This state of panic reached its climax Monday, by which time many trains had been abandoned and communication between the various localities entirely out of the question. People left their homes in great numbers, fleeing from imaginary danger, most of them seeking refuge north of the Ohio.

New Orleans has suffered somewhat from the panic because of the interruption of freight and the feeling that if a single case of fever occurred here all avenues of trade would be closed to the city. Otherwise it has not been affected. There has been no rush to get out of the city. On the contrary, the movement has been the other way, owing to the large number now returning from their summer outing and others who have come home to prevent being quarantined.

The city continues healthy and every precaution is taken to prevent communication with Jackson, Decatur and other infected points in Florida. Confidence is felt that the vigilance of the health authorities will prove effective. And this feeling was well indicated by the course of the stock market. When the fever at Jackson was announced last Friday there was a heavy decline in active local stocks. Tuesday there was a sharp reaction all along the line and the market closed at top figure.

A Refugee Ejected from a Train.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 27.—A distressing incident is related by a passenger who came from the south on the Louisville & Nashville train Tuesday. At Boyce station, Tenn., it was learned that there was a woman on board who had come direct from a locality where the fever is raging. As soon as the fact was learned by the trainmen they went to the baggage car and got her trunk and threw it off. The train was stopped and the unfortunate woman was put off in the woods. It was all done so quickly that the train was moving away before the passengers knew what had happened. Mr. Sweeney says the woman looked as though she was sick, but he did not know whether she had the fever. At any rate the population at Boyce station were so badly frightened that they will not care for her, and in all probability she will wander about in the woods and die.

Dr. Taylor, who came from Decatur, is much improved, and it is believed he will recover. Young Ben Grant, from Paducah, is in about the same condition. People from the south still pour in on every train, but none arrived from the infected districts.

Welcome Frost in Alabama.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 27.—Telegrams from many parts of the state say that there was frost Monday night. It was seen within twenty miles of this city. It is reported general throughout north Alabama, being heaviest on the Sand mountains near the Tennessee river. There is no longer any fear of yellow fever in this section. The frost settled that and the panic subsided as quickly as it came. Trains are running again between Birmingham and Chattanooga, and a regular schedule will be re-sumed in a few days.

Shotgun Quarantine in Tennessee.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 27.—On account of the effective quarantine no cases are reported hereabouts except the one that is alleged to be at Wildwood, eight miles from Chattanooga.

Great excitement still prevails in west Tennessee towns, where shotgun quarantine are rigidly enforced. Though travel over Tennessee roads has so much decreased on account of trouble by quarantines that many trains have been discontinued, and Memphis & Charleston railway trains are discontinued altogether.

The excitement in middle Tennessee has been allayed by favorable reports received from Florida, Alabama and Mississippi. Thousands of loaded freight cars are now sidetracked on southern roads awaiting the raising of quarantine.

The weather in Tennessee is steadily growing cooler, and frost is predicted by the 30th inst., it having occurred last year on September 26.

Wants the Reward.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 27.—William Radaman, a florist, of Austin, Tex., who is now in St. Louis, stated to a reporter that he had written a letter to Senator Plumb, who has introduced a bill in congress offering a reward of $100,000 for a sure remedy against yellow fever, assuring the senator that he was ready to enter the contest for the reward. Mr. Radaman claims to have discovered such a panacea in the microbe killed, and offers to enter the yellow fever district and cure any case in from fifteen minutes to one hour.

Evansville Opens Her Doors.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 27.—The Evansville Business Men's association passed resolutions Tuesday night inviting refugees from the yellow fever districts of the south to this city, and also donated $500 to aid the stricken sections. Several hundred of the refugees will be given work on the new county court house, machine shop for the St. Louis & Nashville division of the Louisville & Nashville railroad company, also the new Business Men's association building and new opera house now in the course of construction.

Washington Gets Her Quota.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—The Washington hotels are filling up rapidly with refugees from the yellow fever stricken sections of the south. More strangers have arrived here this week than during any two weeks this summer or autumn. It is estimated that there are 10,000 refugees in Washington now, and that there are twice that number in the small cities of Virginia.

Yellow Fever in Cuba.

ST. LAGO DE CUBA, Sept. 27.—The yellow fever prevails here to a fearful extent and with unusual fatality. Out of a full company of soldiers all but eight were taken off. In one day thirty-four deaths were reported. Out of a detachment of nine men at Parades seven died.

Two Deaths at Decatur.

DECATUR, Ala., Sept. 27.—There were two deaths Tuesday and two new cases. The deaths were J. H. Wenley and his son, L. S. Weakley, from Brownsville, Tenn., who had been here but a short time. It is generally believed now that the worst is over, notwithstanding the supplies are all exhausted.

Mexico Not Quarantined.

CITY OF MEXICO, Sept. 27.—It has been decided not to declare quarantine against the United States until real cases of yellow fever appear in New Orleans or Texas.

An Elephant Kills Its Keeper.

BROCKWAYVILLE, Pa., Sept. 27.—As Forepaugh's show was unloading at Dubois Tuesday, John Foggy, an elephant trainer, of Salem, N. J., was attacked by the elephant, "Tip," and killed. Foggy was trying to get the beast out of the car, but it had been angered by men and boys teasing it and feeding it apples which contained tobacco and pepper. It struck him with its trunk, gored him with its tusks and trampled him. The other elephants grew angry, and tore up another cage, and struck two other men, but not to do harm.

The Burlington Strike Still On.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—The Tribune publishes what it claims to be copy of a secret circular of the Brotherhood of Engineers. The circular declares that the strike is still on and the men are as firm as ever; that wrecks are numerous and are causing great loss to the Burlington, who conceal from the public all particulars; that the company is anxious for them to return to work and that overtures have recently been made to many of them to return.

Prairie Fires in Dakota.

JAMESTOWN, Dak., Sept. 27.—Extensive fires are raging in the prairies south and west of this place. As strong a wind is blowing, it is feared that there may be a serious loss of life and property.

Storm on the Atlantic Coast.

BOSTON, Sept. 27.—A violent wind and rain storm is raging along the whole New England coast. Telegraph wires are down in all directions, and the damage to property will be large.

Much has been written about the way in which the proprietors of small candy stores adjacent to school houses in this city cater to depraved tastes in their small patrons through the indiscriminate sale of cigarettes and the introduction of all sorts of "prize package" gambling devices. There is one man who runs a place of this sort across the way from a South side school house who takes the gate money and the belt for meanness. Of course he sells cigarettes, and he has taken advantage of the children's craze for the "cigarette pictures." He carefully removes them from all the packages in his stock and peddles them out at the rate of two for a cent to the little collectors. His nerve would be a good microscope through which to study his principle.

SHERMAN'S PLAN

TO ANNEX CANADA DISCUSSED BY THE SENATE.

SENATOR MORGAN FAVORS THE PRESIDENT'S POLICY.

And Says the Man From Ohio Is Anxious to Have the North Pole Under the American Eagle's Wing—Some of the Points in the Republican Substitute for the Mills Tariff Bill—Others Yet to Be Agreed Upon.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—In the senate Tuesday afternoon Mr. Sherman's resolution for an inquiry into the state of the relations between the United States and Great Britain and Canada was taken up and Mr. Morgan proceeded to discuss it.

SENATOR MORGAN.

Proceeding to discuss the president's retaliatory message Mr. Morgan asserted that the safest, cheapest and best form of retaliation was to collect duties on goods going into and coming from Canada. The most direct effect that would follow would be the transfer of a large part of the trade which Canada now conducted with Great Britain and other foreign countries to American merchants and manufacturers. Canada could not afford to pay its own tariff duties and American tariff duties in addition on its imported and exported merchandise.

Mr. Morgan favored the policy suggested by the president. It would have more to do, he said, with Canada coming within the political affiliations of the United States than any other argument which any human being could name, because it brought before the eyes of the Canadian people the great practical question that their material interests were so bound up with those of the American people that a common government was necessary for all alike.

Criticising the position of Mr. Sherman on the question, Mr. Morgan said that the senator from Ohio would not introduce a bill to assist the president of the United States, and would not vote for a bill now before his committee to help the president to cure existing evils. When that senator was asked to consider that measure in committee, and to bring it into the senate and vote for it, so as to give justice to American shippers through Canadian canals, he opened his all embracing arms and proposed to take in Canada clear up to the north pole. That was the senator's answer to the president's retaliation message.

Mr. Dolph, in reply to Mr. Morgan, said he regarded the president's retaliatory message as a most extraordinary document, and that the measure proposed would do more injury to the United States than to Canada.

The resolution was referred to the committee on foreign relations.

The Republican Tariff Bill.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—The Herald's Washington dispatch says the Republican substitute for the Mills tariff bill is practically a tobacco and sugar bill, with only changes of details in the tariff schedules.

The Republican senators are not even yet agreed upon every feature of the bill, and there are several important provisions hanging in the air.

The bill is calculated to make a reduction in the revenue of $70,000,000. This is practically off three articles—tobacco, sugar and alcohol used in the arts. The additions to the free list in the senate bill are few and the amount of revenue reduction gained thereby relatively trifling.

The reductions in the tariff schedules of the senate bill outside of sugar amount to a little more than a readjustment, and some of them will increase receipts instead of decreasing them. The free list consists principally of drugs and chemicals, but contains also jute, manilla and sisal grass. It does not contain lumber, soap, salt, wool, cotton-bagging or borax, all of which appear on the free list of the Mills bill. The pottery schedule is readjusted with slight increase on every item where it has been thought necessary.

Plate glass is practically unchanged. The metal schedules have been simplified by uniting the duties on steel and iron. Steel rails will be put at $15 or $14 per ton, the committee has not decided which. There is no change made in the lumber schedule. The cut in sugar is about 50 per cent. Under the head of provisions, rice is reduced 50 per cent. There are few changes in the provision schedule.

The duty on clothing wools of the finer grades is increased from twelve to thirteen cents. This is the only change made in raw wool. There are some increases of duty on woollens, but they do not amount to a restoration of the duties of 1867. There is no change in the silk schedule.

The dispatch concludes as follows:

"Flax seed, linseed, and

THURSDAY EVE., SEPT. 27. 1888.

Senator Sherman on the Tariff.

Mr. Sherman, of Ohio, who was doubtless familiar with the views of those engaged in manufacturing industries, said in a speech in the Senate in 1867:

Every law imposing duty on imported goods is necessarily a restraint on trade. It imposes a burden on the purchase and sale of imported goods and tends to prevent their importation. The expression "a free trade tariff" involves an absurdity.

Again he says:

Every duty on imported merchandise gives to the domestic manufacturer an advantage equal to the duty.

How will the Republicans reconcile this statement with the one made by Mr. Harrison in his letter of acceptance that the consumer does not pay the increased price? Again Mr. Sherman said on this particular point:

Every duty on imported merchandise gives to the domestic manufacturer an advantage equal to the duty, and to that extent every tariff is a protective tariff.

And he said further:

If you converse with the intelligent men engaged in the business of manufacturing they will tell you that they are willing to compete with England, France, Germany, and all the countries of Europe at the old rates of duty. If you reduce their products to a specific basis and put them upon the same footing they were before the war, the present rates of duty would be too high. It would not be necessary for scarce any branch of industry to be protected to the extent of your present tariff law. They do not ask protection against the pauper labor of Europe, but they ask protection against the creation of your own laws.

There is some good Republican testimony as to the soundness of the Democratic policy. The Democrats are trying to do precisely what the wisest men in the Republican party considered best for the country a few years ago. But when the time has come to put their propositions in the form of practical legislation the mask falls off and the hypocrisy of the Republicans is exposed.

There is less reason for a high tariff now than when Senator Sherman uttered the above sentiments. The people know this to be a fact, and they also know that the Republican cry of "free trade" is all hypocritical cant and campaign lies to frighten the voters into supporting Harrison and Morton. But the scheme won't work—the people will not be longer deceived.

Who will watch over the interests of this Congressional district at Washington while Hon. George M. Thomas is at home spending his days in ease and drawing his salary?

We were misinformed. Mr. Thomas A. Davis doesn't seem to know when he has enough. He says he will meet Hon. William J. Hendrick at Brooksville in a joint discussion next Monday, and probably at Owingsville on the 8th of October.

In the United States those industries which are not protected pay the highest wages. According to the last census the average yearly wages of the unprotected railway employee was $450, while those of the protected iron-workers are only $312. Which side will you take?

PRESIDENT GRANT, in his annual message of 1875, said: "All duty paid upon such articles (raw materials) goes directly to the cost of the articles when manufactured here and MUST BE PAID BY THE CONSUMER. These duties not only come from the consumer at home, but act as PROTECTION TO FOREIGN MANUFACTURERS."

If General Grant was living to-day it is highly probable, judging from the above, that he would favor the election of Cleveland and Thurman, because the Republican platform is directly opposite to the views above. Democrats are denounced as "free traders," and yet their views on this question of a tariff on raw materials are exactly in line with the opinion of Grant. Was grant a "free trader?"

The wages of labor in the manufactures are but little more than 17 per cent. of the product. In other words the amount that falls to labor out of the total value of the products is only $17 out of every $100. Now does it not stand to reason that if a tariff be at all necessary an average tariff of 17 per cent. would be amply sufficient to protect American labor against foreign labor, even if the latter get no wages at all? Yet the average tariff duties is 47 per cent., although the difference in the wages between this and other countries is not 5 per cent. calculated upon the relative productiveness of labor. Why then is this extra 30 per cent. put on? It does not protect labor. But it does protect the manufacturer against his own workmen in their efforts to make him treat them justly. It enables him to draw his labor from the free markets of the world and the inevitable result is cheap labor and dear goods. If you want to continue to strengthen the hold these favored few have under the present unjust tariff you will vote on that side. But if you would be freed from the restraints and disadvantages which protection puts upon you, and you would see labor with the power to enforce just terms for its toil, you will vote with the Democrats.

TARIFF AND GLASS.

A Big Manufacturer Comes Out In Support of the Mills Bill.

SHARON, PENN., Sept. 24.—Alex Thoburn, Manager of the Stoneboro, Co-operative Glass Works, the only one of its kind in the world, is out to-night in an interview in the Leader, in which he declares for the Mills bill. He claims its passage would undoubtedly aid the flint-glass workers and manufacturers by reducing the excessive tariff on the ingredients entering into glass-making. He says that the present tariff on the manufactured article is small and out of proportion to the tax on raw material.

A St. Louis clerk won $15,000 in the Louisiana lottery not long ago and lost his mind over his luck, and is now in a lunatic asylum. This will not put a stop to the lottery business. The average fellow will take the $15,000 every day and run the risk of landing in an asylum.

MR. M. C. HUTCHINS in a speech at Ripley a few days ago declared emphatically that "we can export cotton cloth to Europe and sell it under the nose of pauper labor cheaper than they can produce it. This statement is undoubtedly true. The superior skill of the American laborer combined with the use of machinery makes it possible to do it. Now, if American labor can do this, and we have the evidence of a protectionist that it has done it, take off the load that has been placed upon the shoulders of this industry and give it an equal chance and it will drive the "pauper" labor out of the markets of the world.

DARING HIGHWAY ROBES.

THE BOLD WORK OF TWO MASKED MEN
ON THE STREET AT ABERDEEN.

FRONT STREET AT ABERDEEN was the scene last evening of the boldest highway robbery committed in this region for years.

WHEN ALL THE CIRCUMSTANCES OF THE AFFAIR ARE CONSIDERED they make the deed seem all the more daring.

ABOUT HALF-PAST EIGHT O'CLOCK Mr.
John Herbert, a cigar-maker employed at Petry's Eagle Cigar Factory of this city, was walking along Front street, at Aberdeen. He was accompanied by his friend, Mr. Harry Newton, and the couple were strolling along leisurely, the thought of robbers being the least in their minds. When passing in front of a vacant lot owned by Captain Small, about half-way between the ferry-landings, they were suddenly halted by two masked men who jumped out before them with pistols in hand. Newton turned and ran, paying no attention to the demands of the robbers to stop. Herbert thought some of his friends were trying to play a joke on him, and started to walk away. He soon learned his mistake, as the fellows seized hold of him by the collar, shoved their weapons in his face and ordered him to throw up his hands, which he reluctantly did. They then very coolly went through his pockets and took all the money he had with him—$23. Not satisfied with this, they pulled a ring off one of his fingers and carried that away also.

HAVING OBTAINED ALL THE VALUABLES he had, they told him "to get," ordering him to go up an alley near by. He ran a short distance up the alley and fell to the ground with the intention to watch the couple and see where they went.
They saw him fall, however, and approached him with pistols in hand and again ordered him "to get." When he reached Second street, he looked back but the robbers had disappeared.

MR. HERBERT NOTIFIED THE POLICE but no
ARRESTS HAVE YET BEEN MADE. He has no
CLUE AS TO THE GUILTY PARTIES.

MR. HUDDSON, THE COAL DEALER, RESIDES
ONLY A SHORT DISTANCE FROM THE SCENE—
ABOUT SEVENTY-FIVE OR ONE HUNDRED FEET.

THE FAMILY WERE IN THE FRONT ROOM, BUT HEARD NOTHING OF THE DISTURBANCE.

THE FACT THAT THE HIGHWAYMEN WERE MASKED GIVES RISE TO THE OPINION THAT THEY ARE LOCAL "TALENT," IN WHICH EVENT
THEY WILL LIKELY BE FOUND OUT AND PUN-ISHED.

MORE APPROPRIATIONS

LIKELY TO BE MADE BY FRANCE TO INCREASE HER NAVY,

Which Now Has But Few Vessels Suitable For Modern Requirements—A Number of Germans Murdered in Africa—Stanley Now Believed to Be Alive—Foreign.

PARIS, Sept. 27.—Admiral Krantz's reasons for protesting against any reduction of the naval estimates are well founded, all naval officers agree, and his demand for an increase to the sum which the chamber found sufficient will probably be acceded to. Now, more than ever, must the French navy rank with those of the first class among marine armaments, for the Mediterranean fleet of France must always be powerful enough to cope with that of Italy and the Atlantic and channel coasts cannot be left unguarded.

Reports from sources generally authentic state that very few vessels in the French navy can be considered as really efficient according to modern requirements. They are slow and their armaments are of inferior caliber, and although pressing representations to this effect have repeatedly been made, no steps have yet been taken to replace the guns complained of by others more suitable.

The Italians have not been above obtaining guns and engines from foreign makers when they considered them superior to those made in their own country, while France has patriotically equipped her own vessels from works at home. English naval officers consider the Italia and Lepanto far superior to any vessels in the French navy. It is certain that Admiral Krantz is not alone in feeling anxious for an increased appropriation and that many other officers resent the niggardly policy which haggles over a comparatively small sum considering the importance of the purpose for which it is needed.

The refusal to decrease the imposts on breadstuffs is regarded as sop thrown to the agriculturists in consideration of the wretched harvests in France this year, and naturally the agitators in the cities have taken advantage of the opportunity given to them to increase the bitterness of the workmen against the government. The restlessness thus engendered is increasing daily, as is evidenced by the strikes in all branches of industry, and the loudest in their complaints belong to the numerous class to whom labor is but an occasional makeshift.

The Monarchists are industriously fanning the flame and endeavoring to persuade the mob of the beneficial results to them which would follow a change of rule while impressing upon the minds of the middle classes the necessity of a stronger form of government. It is undeniable that their prospects are brightening and that Zola was not far from right when he sarcastically said that the French people are at heart the least Democratic in Europe. In the salons of Paris the speedy overthrow of the present cabinet is deemed assured and the gossips are already discussing as to their successors.

William at Detmold.

BERLIN, Sept. 27.—On his arrival at Detmold the emperor was enthusiastically received. At a banquet Monday evening the prince of Lippe-Detmold proposed a toast to the health of the emperor, who, in reply, returned thanks for the manner in which he had been received, and recalled the fact that when a boy stood before the unfinished monument of Arminius. He expressed his conviction that those sons of the land who under the leadership of their prince had soiled their hands in the cause of German unity would continue to act in the same spirit. In conclusion he proposed the health of the prince and his house.

The White Pasha Again.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—Advices from Khar-toun by the Emin relief committee confirm the reports concerning the presence of a white man in the Bahr-el-Gazel country. In reply to a request for information regarding this person the mahdi sent an insulting refusal. The roads between Berber and Khar-toun are fairly safe, and news may arrive at any moment.

The confirmation of the news that the white pasha is in the Bahr-el-Gazel country strengthens the opinion that Stanley has reached Emin Bey, and that they are engaged in organizing the district.

Slaughter of Germans.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—The Zanzibar insurgents seized the town of Killiva and hoisted the sultan's flag. It is reported that all the Germans in Lindi have been murdered, and that all Europeans on the coast are in imminent danger. The British Indians are preparing an exodus en masse from the coast towns in the German concession.

This is a natural result of the manner in which the Germans have pushed their scheme of acquisition on the east coast. It is a return in kind.

Foreign Notes.

The sultan is entitling the Russian grand dukes.

German troops are following the revolting of Zanzibar into the interior.

Prince George of Greece has been betrothed to the Princess Marguerite, daughter of the Duke de Chartres.

The German government will inquire into the publication of the abstract of Emperor Frederick's diary.

The amir of Afghanistan reports that the rebel forces under Ishak Khan have retreated to Tashkurgan.

Prince Bismarck and Count Herbert Bismarck have arrived at Potsdam and held a conference with Emperor William.

The semi-official press states that the publication of the abstract from the diary of the late Emperor Frederick will be made the subject of an inquiry by the government.

Reinforcements have been ordered to Sikkim, where the rebels have assumed a threatening attitude. Gen. Grenfell and Col. Kitchener are proceeding in haste to that place.

Forty persons suspected of being concerned in the murder of the woman whose body was found in a box received at St. Petersburg from Warsaw have been arrested in the latter city. The woman was a police spy in the guise of a uhlhast.

The National Gazette attacks the Deutsche Rundschau for publishing extracts from Frederick's diary. The Gazette contends that the publication will injure Prussian-German politics and have a damaging influence on international relations, and ought to be treated as an unlawful act.

EDISON'S LATEST.

He Believes He Has Discovered a Cure for Yellow Fever.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Since September 15, Thomas A. Edison, the electrician, who is unremittingly making experiments, has been devoting his attention to the yellow fever microbe and seeking an efficacious method of extermination.

The results of his experiments have led him to think that he has discovered a remedy for the extermination, or an effectual check for yellow fever. Experiments on a large scale have been made with well known substances whose cheapness is one chief claim for recommending them for disinfectants. They are gasoline, rhigoline and a 10 per cent. solution of caustic soda, made from a 10 per cent. of cretine material. The cost of the solution is about one-fourth cent per pound.

"I cannot understand," said Edison, "how, in the face of the progress of modern science, nothing has been done to check yellow fever. It is as yet unchecked, and instead of decreasing is rapidly increasing. My experiments have been purely sentimental, and from the result I feel confident that I have at least found the means of stamping out the fever germs."

"I am convinced that fever germs must be either of two things, animal organization or fungus growth. In '78 I experimented to find some chemical to kill the colored beetle, and at last found that gasoline was immediately destructive to animal and vegetable matter. It is effective, and evaporates in ten minutes, leaving nothing behind, so that all danger of combustion is soon passed. One-sixteenth inch of gasoline goes fifteen inches below ground and kills everything. Rhigoline is a little dearer, but would prove valuable for quarantining purposes."

"Cold is accepted as an exterminator of the germs. Both gasoline and rhigoline lower the temperature sufficiently to prove of value in treating this fever. I took an old woolen coat, tied up one of the sleeves to hold a thermometer, and then drenched it with gasoline. The temperature when the thermometer was first introduced in the sleeve, was eighty-two degrees Fahrenheit, but it gradually fell to seventy-five. After thirty minutes it fell to fifty-two degrees. The same experiment was tried with rhigoline. After fifteen minutes the temperature fell to twenty-three, and the coat was covered with hoar frost, so had it contained any microbes they would have been thoroughly exterminated."

"Gasoline has a peculiar property also of displacing water in all organic matter, causing it to perish, but as gasoline not easily absorbed by wet ground and would probably fail in a measure to do its work, I have discovered that caustic soda will answer the purpose in these instances. Microbes, being organic, must contain fatty acid, and caustic soda will supernate anything containing fatty acid. So in wet places, I would liberally sprinkle caustic soda, which could be done at a very small cost, with the aid of a street sprinkler. Houses and dry places could be protected with gasoline. With $5,000 I could cover Decatur with gasoline and caustic soda an eighth of an inch in thickness."

John Smith Attempts Suicide.

GREENSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 27.—John Smith, a son of John L. Smith, tried to take his life at the end of a rope. The family were absent at the time. His mother came home and found him inside the house, and cut him down. A doctor was brought in and the would-be suicide brought to life after the use of proper restoratives. He had been drinking heavily.

Injured by a Buzz Saw.

SABINA, O., Sept. 27.—Frank Bloom, of Reesville, has his left hand badly mutilated by a buzz saw yesterday afternoon. Two of his fingers were amputated.

Drunk Poison by Mistake.

AKRON, O., Sept. 27.—John Porter, a farmer of Copley, got up with cramps to get some brandy. By mistake he took liquid potato bug poison and died in a short time.
